REFLECTIONS FROM REV JOSH JONES

It's been a big week with two funerals in two days including a celebration of our own much loved and valued Catherine Dakin. It was a fitting celebration and tribute to Catherine's life and it was great to see her Life group there in support along with those who helped bring her to our Sunday services as Catherine's health deteriorated in the final months.

The love shown to Catherine through prayer and practical care and support speaks very much into Jeannie's message today about our faith calling to be instruments of Christ in our daily endeavours and lives. Most often this isn't through grand and dramatic endeavours but simple acts of love, compassion and offerings of our creative gifts.

This truth was reflected in the other funeral we hosted with the life of Rae Cross. I never had the opportunity to meet Rae but what shone through was a life of Christian faith that enriched the lives of others through her joyful contributions into the life of her faith communities and beyond.

Today we look forward to hearing from Jeannie as she explores this calling through Christ.
