Reflection from Josh and Jeremy

Morena and a Spirit-filled welcome to Sr George's on this Pentecost morning that is shared by the world-wide church. Last year our young people blessed us with their leading of this special celebration and today we wanted to repeat this.

One of the core ministry 'sails' in our Catching the Wind initiative is to go even deeper in our commitment of nurturing and encouraging the faith of our young people. In particular we want them to flourish within the context of a supportive 'intergenerational' culture where we can all be a gift to each other, regardless of age. Our prayer is that once again today will be an important life-giving expression of this desire.

On Tuesday we had another inspiring Staff Meeting as we discussed all the expressions we have witnessed of the Spirit moving among us. We make sure that all our staff meetings begin with stories of how we have seen God at work in all the small details of our lives and ministry to encourage a spirit of thanksgiving among us. Not a week goes by when we haven't been grateful for all the beautiful expressions we have both experienced and witnessed and we followed this in the same spirit on Wednesday morning at our Pastoral Care team meeting.

As I write this on Friday morning I've been reminded once again of the deep privilege we have in ministering among our church whanau.

On Sunday 7th of June both myself and Jeremy will be putting flesh on the bones of the Catching the Wind vision and updating developments that have arisen from the Spirit's movement among us these past few weeks.

We have both been enormously encouraged and energised by peoples responses and we thank you for all your support and trust.
